

Sara's Angles

Music & Lyrics by Sara Da Silva

Do you know, how to tell apart different angles, it's not so hard there are three names, that they have I've met them all, here's what they said

I am Mr. Right Angle, I am perpendicular a square's on place you can find me I'll always be 90!

Do you know, how to tell apart
different angles, it's not so hard we've met one, but there are more and different from, the one before

I am Ms. Acute Angle, less than 90 you should know a cute little angle is my nick name my number isn't always the same

Do you know, how to tell apart
different angles, it's not so hard the last one, is pretty grand that's why I saved it for the end

Hello my name is Obtuse I know it sounds funny, but what can I do I'm bigger than 90 and can just grow but stop before I become a circle

Do you know, how to tell apart
right, acute, and obtuse really loved meeting you

Right will never ever change acute and obtuse not always the same but if you need to remember their rules acute is little and obtuse is huge!

Now you know how to tell apart different angles, it wasn't hard go out there and say hello to all the angles you now know!
to all the angles that you know ...
