Welcome Back!
The Education Graduate Student Society (EGSS) would like to welcome you back to the Faculty after a much needed winter break!

We suspect that many New Year’s resolutions have been made and subsequently broken. However, the EGSS would like to reaffirm its continued commitment to providing graduate students a voice at the Faculty of Education.

The rest of the newsletter will be devoted to current issues as well as past and upcoming events.

The EGSS would like to wish all of student body the best of luck in 2013!

Upcoming Events

ScholarShare

ScholarShare is a research seminar series that provides opportunities for graduate students to present and discuss their research in a friendly and welcoming environment. The next seminar will be on January 31st at noon. Watch your email for more information!

Rose Bruno-Jofré Symposium

You are invited to attend the 2013 Rosa Bruno-Jofré Symposium in Education. The symposium will occur on March 22nd, 2013. The symposium will highlight current research work of graduate students at Queen’s University and other Ontario universities.

Paper presentations and roundtable discussions will be held throughout the afternoon.

Past Events

Soup for Funds
On November 14, 2012, faculty, staff, and graduate students shared in the celebration of Diabetes Awareness Month by partaking in a nutritious soup lunch. Diners were asked to contribute a small donation to the Canadian Diabetes Association. Together, the Queen’s Faculty of Education raised $91 to the Association.

Convocation Reception
The Fall 2012 Convocation took place on November 21, 2012. A reception was held in the Education Library for the graduating students and their families. Congratulations everyone!

Dessert Drop-in
The EGSS held a Dessert Drop-in on December 12th, 2012 as an opportunity for staff and students to relax and celebrate after a hectic but successful fall term.
